

Karen Robinson is Associate General Counsel, Director of Litigation at Adobe Systems Incorporated. Karen manages Adobe's in-house litigation team and oversees Adobe's world-wide docket of litigation. Before joining Adobe, Karen was Litigation Counsel at Google where she managed patent litigation for Google's Geo and Social offerings. Before coming in-house, Karen had over a decade of experience in patent litigation and was a partner in the Washington D.C. office of Kirkland & Ellis.